

Broadcasting is a disaster. Here in San Diego one company effectively controls the radio market, with about 18 signals owned or controlled. There is little creative programming, and nowhere for us to go for anything else. What was wrong with the way things were before the consolidation madness? What was the problem that you were trying to fix?

Ownership rules should be changed ASAP. You simply changed the rules of competition to be market vs. market instead of station vs. station. By doing this, only the public lost. The public is being poorly served by this arrangement.
